The Engineer

Leading from the cab window does more with his ears than his eyes. The "rumble and grumble and roar" of his engine are to him articulate speech, and a false note in that jumble of sounds would catch his ear as quickly as a discord would strike the ear of the leader of an orchestra.

He thinks more of his engine than himself. That is why he neglects to notice symptoms which are full of warning. The foul tongue, the bitter taste, sour stings, and undue fullness after eating are but symptoms of dyspepsia or some form of disease involving the stomach and organs of digestion and nutrition. In time the heart, liver, lungs, or other organs are involved and the engineer has to lay off.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures diseases of the stomach and organs of digestion and nutrition. It purifies the blood and builds up the body with sound healthy flesh.

"I used the bottle of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and several of his 'Pleasant Pellets' a year ago this spring, and have had no trouble with indigestion since," writes Mr. W. T. Thompson, of Torrington, Connecticut. "I am for the relief, as I had suffered so much and it seemed that the doctor could do no more. I got down a weight of 25 pounds, and was not able to work at all. Now I weigh 160 lbs. and can do a day's work on the farm. I have recommended your medicine to several, and shall always have a good word to say for Dr. Pierce and his medicine."

JUDICIAL ANARCHY IN KENTUCKY.

Judge Cantrill's Intense Partizan Charge to the Franklin County Grand Jury.

The People Stand Astonished and Amazed.

The Pulpit and Press Severely Arraigned as a "Lot of Letcherous, Libelous, Cowardly Curs that no Community Ought to Tolerate."

JUDICIAL VERSION OF GOEBELISM.

We meet, gentlemen of the jury, under peculiar and lamentable circumstances. Crime has run rampant not only throughout this grand old Commonwealth of ours, but throughout the whole country, and to-day the hearts of the whole people are bowed in grief and the people are sending up prayers for the relief of the stricken President of these United States. It is indeed to contemplate the situation of affairs that now confront us. It has always been my wish and my prayer that the country should be relieved from any such state of affairs as that with which we now stand face to face. As to the cause of these matters, it is possibly improper for me to conjecture, but of one thing this court is thoroughly satisfied, and it has been the burden of my charge to every grand jury that has been summoned within my jurisdiction since I became a judge of this proud Commonwealth, and that is that the dereliction of the grand and petit juries of this country at this particular time, and especially in this Commonwealth, is more to be blamed for the state of affairs in this country at this particular time, than all other causes combined. I recognize the weaknesses of the judges of the court. I recognize the weaknesses and the passions of the judges of the court. I recognize the prejudices of the lawyers who prosecute and defend at the bar. But there is no excuse for the failures of grand juries and petit juries when they go to the closet of their rooms, when they are assembled to themselves, free from all passions, free from all outside influences, free as they swear they shall always be to decide all cases that come before them according to the law and testimony submitted to them at the bar—there can be no excuse of the petit juries of the country turning red-handed murderers loose upon the various communities of our land; there can be no excuse when the grand jury comes to deliberate upon the matters that are submitted to them, when they only stand in the presence of their God, that he who violates the law ought to pay its penalty, and the only way in which society can be protected—the only security you have for your home and for the children who may come after you—is to aid the courts in every possible way you can in seeing the law vindicated.

AIMING ENDS OF JUSTICE.

As a rule, a man who is impeached as a grand juror and who undertakes to investigate charges that have been brought before him when the final report is made by the foreman and the jury discharged, imagines that his duty to the Commonwealth is at an end. Such, gentlemen, is not the case. It is just as much incumbent upon you in your private capacity as citizen to aid the officers of the law and of the courts in bringing criminals to justice as it is incumbent upon you impeached as grand jurors of this Commonwealth. But that is one of the mistakes that a large majority of the people of this State makes, that when a juror is discharged from service in the courts, he feels himself absolved from all further duty in assisting the officers of the law in bringing about the thorough vindication of the law.

As I said, this people at the present time is bowed down with unutterable grief. The head of the nation has been shot down by the merciless hand of the assassin. No fair-minded man, no lover of justice, no citizen who has the welfare of this great country at heart can approve of such an act. Upon the contrary, he must, as a necessity, not only deplore and condemn such an act, but he must wish that the day shall speedily come when such acts shall be impossible.

THE GOEBEL TRAGEDY.

Whilst this is the case, and whilst our citizens are gathering in public assemblies and expressing their resolution of their condemnation of that act; while the pupils throughout the country on yesterday not only sent up supplications to the Throne of Grace that the life of the President should be spared, which all of us sincerely hope for, I desire to say to you, gentlemen, in all candor and in all seriousness, that it has not been two years since this grand old Commonwealth was shaken from center to circumference by a similar tragedy. In the light of broad day, upon the Capitol square of your city, one of the proudest, the ablest and the most respected citizens of your Commonwealth was stricken down in a somewhat similar manner. It is an old adage, but it is a true one, that times change and men change with them. At the time of that occurrence, and when the law-shielding and liberty-loving people of the Commonwealth were condemning that action, it is deplorable and humiliating to have to admit that there were certain elements within the Commonwealth of Kentucky that if they did not openly approve of the act were at least willing to excuse it; not only willing to excuse it, but many of them were willing to shield the criminal, whoever he might be.

ANARCHY NOT DENOUNCED.

At that time there were no public meetings upon the part of the people who are now proposing to denounce anarchy and anarchism. The pupils as a rule sent up no supplication to the Throne of Grace that the life of William Goebel should be spared to his Commonwealth. If there were any expressions or indications as to the feelings of the pupils (the same pupils in Kentucky which are now flaming there thunderbolts against anarchy and anarchism, which is all right, and which I approve), the public knew nothing of them, and if there were any prayers to the Throne of Grace, they were secret prayers that the life of that brave citizen should not be spared, and that the man who was making the contest against him for office should be his successor. I know whereof I speak. You know the character and you know the conduct of the pupils in your community at that time, and I am advised and I know that throughout the length and breadth of the State of Kentucky, with but few exceptions, there was no condemnation of anarchy or anarchism, nor was there any denunciation of the assassin.

THE PRESS' POSITION.

In addition to that, there was a portion of your public press which not only before the culmination of that great crime winked at it, if they did not approve and encourage, but after the culmination of that offense deliberately asserted that nobody knew and nobody could find out who the assassin was, and charges and counter-charges were made. There were no efforts on the part of those in power, except the civil officers of your county, to ascertain and arrest the guilty parties, and when the civil officers of this county undertook to perform their duty and presented themselves upon the Capitol square of this city they were confronted by an armed body of men who had been gathered there for a purpose which nobody has ever attempted to explain, and which has been up to this time explained. I mention these facts, gentlemen, because I am determined that history shall be vindicated.

MUST NOT BE FORGOTTEN.

I do not want, nor do I intend to say as I am concerned, that the people of this Commonwealth shall forget the great crime and outrage that has been perpetrated within its borders, and as the outcome of it these same people who are now, as I said a while ago, flaming their thunderbolts against anarchy, at that time and ever since up to this time have been the great defenders of civil liberty leagues and defenders and apologists for the armed mob who should congregate in one end of the State and march to the capital city of the Commonwealth to defy law and order and the civil authorities there in power. Not only that, but after a grand jury of this county had made due indictments and after a party had become a refugee from justice and had taken asylum in an adjoining State, the requisition of your Governor was peremptorily refused, and that same refugee, assured and protected by four Governors of sister States, made a triumphant tour to a national political convention at Philadelphia, with the absolute assurance that during that journey no officer of the law should execute the processes of this court or should attempt to execute the processes issued by the Governor of your Commonwealth.

ROOSEVELT'S POSITION.

And it is a lamentable fact, if history be correct, and if the newspaper prints properly published, that the man who is now the second great officer of this great nation, the Governor of the State of New York, upon and above-board assured the refugee from justice and boasted of the fact that if he came within his jurisdiction he should receive ample and proper protection.

BACKACHE

MISS LUCY ANNIE HEISER, OF MINNEAPOLIS, MINN.

Miss Lucy Annie Heiser, a graduated nurse of nine years' experience, trained and graduated from the Homoeopathic Hospital of Minneapolis, Minn., writes as follows:

The Peruna Medicine Co., Columbus, Ohio.

Gentlemen:—Although my school does not believe in patent medicines, I have found it to be a fact that Peruna is a grand and valuable medicine. I have known it to cure Mrs. Sampson, suffering with an inflamed womb, aggravated by malaria, after the doctors had failed to help her. Another of my former patients suffered with a complication of female diseases; she was so thin, nothing but skin and bones, but Peruna cured her and she is to-day in good health and good flesh. Facts prove that Peruna revives lost strength and restores to the sick that most wonderful blessing of life—health.

Albert Lea, Minn., Nov. 8, 1899.

I have taken four bottles and for two months have been entirely free from these maladies. Several of my friends are using Peruna with beneficial results, especially in cases of troubles with the kidneys and other pelvic organs, together with weaknesses peculiar to women.

COWARDLY CONDUCT.

It is not my purpose nor do I intend to review any of those trials, but I do not hesitate one moment to denounce their conduct in making these assaults upon the officers of the courts, upon Sheriffs and the police, upon the judges, upon the Commonwealth's Attorney and upon the Judge as being the position they hold, and have offered all that every excuse that it was possible for the trials upon the part of the defendants.

THE HOME GOLD CURE.

An Ingenious Treatment by Which Drunkards are Being Cured Daily in Spite of Themselves.

No Noxious Drugs. No Weakening of the Nerves. A Pleasant and Positive Cure for the Liquor Habit.

It is now generally understood that Drunkenness is a disease and not a weakness. A body filled with poison, and nerves completely shattered by paralytic or constant use of intoxicating liquors, requires an antidote capable of neutralizing and eradicating this poison, and destroying the craving for intoxicants. Sufferers may now cure themselves at home without publicity or loss of time from business by this wonderful "Home Gold Cure" which has been perfected after many years of close study and treatment of inebriates. The infallible use according to directions of this wonderful discovery is positively guaranteed to cure the most obstinate case, no matter how hard a drinker. Our records show the marvelous transformation of thousands of Drunkards into sober, industrious and upright men.

Wives cure your husbands! Children cure your fathers! This remedy is in no sense a nostrum but is a specific for this disease only, and is so skillfully devised and prepared that it is thoroughly palatable and pleasant to the taste, so that it can be given in a cup of tea or coffee without the knowledge of the person taking it. Thousands of drunkards have cured themselves with this priceless remedy, and as many more have been cured and made temperate men by loving friends and relatives without their knowledge in coffee or tea, and believe to-day that discontinued drinking of their own free will. Do not wait. Do not be deluded by apparent and leading "improvement." Drive out the disease at once and for all time. The "Home Gold Cure" is sold at the extremely low price of One Dollar, thus placing within reach of everybody a treatment more effective than others costing $25 to $50. Full directions accompany each package. Special advice by skilled physicians when requested without extra charge. Sent prepaid to any part of the world on receipt of one dollar. Address Dept. 1, Edwin B. Giles & Company, 2330 and 2332 Market street, Philadelphia. All correspondents strictly confidential.

HOPING FOR RECOVERY.

I pray and sincerely hope that he will be spared to the people. I prayed and sincerely hoped that William Goebel would be spared to the Commonwealth of Kentucky. Notwithstanding that some of you gentlemen know, and if you do not know, the officers of this court know, that there has not been a time since the prosecution commenced up to the present time that the officers of your court, including your Judge, have not been weekly and monthly threatened with assassination for their efforts to discharge their duties. But I speak not only for myself, but for my associate officers that come weal or woe, so far as the discharge of our duty is concerned in the prosecution of the pleas of the Commonwealth, and so far as my deliverances to the juries are concerned. I shall never swerve and I know they will never swerve one iota from the discharge of their conscientious duties.

APPEAL TO JURY.

I appeal to you, gentlemen, to discharge your duty faithfully and honestly, and appealing to you to do that I appeal to you to stand by the officers of your Commonwealth in the faithful performance of their duties. Unless they are backed up by the grand and petit juries of the country and by the intelligent sentimentality and by the moral and physical courage of every lover of his family and his Commonwealth, our government will come to naught, and

COLUMBIA CITY, WASH.

"I can speak only good words of the repeated benefits I have had from the use of Peruna."

"Too constant application to work last winter caused me to have severe head and backache and dragging pains. I could not stop my work, neither was I fit to go on. Reading of the beneficial results from the use of Peruna I purchased a bottle and within a few days after using it, began to feel better."

"I constantly improved and before the seventh bottle was completely used, all pains were gone, my strength was restored, and I now seem ten years' younger."

"If I get tired or feel bad, Peruna at once helps me, and I feel you deserve praise for placing such a conscientious medicine before a suffering public."

Mrs. Amanda Shumaker.

Mattie B. Curtis, Secretary Legion of Loyal Women, Hotel Salem, Boston, Mass., writes:

"I suffered for over a year with general weakness and debility, manifested especially in severe backache and headache."

"My physician prescribed different medicines, none of which seemed to help me any until a club associate advised me to try Peruna, as I feared her of constitutional headache and stomach troubles. I at once ordered a bottle and before it was used, felt greatly improved."

"I have taken four bottles and for two months have been entirely free from these maladies. Several of my friends are using Peruna with beneficial results, especially in cases of troubles with the kidneys and other pelvic organs, together with weaknesses peculiar to women."

CURED OF CHRONIC DIARRHOEA After Thirty Years of Suffering.

"I suffered for thirty years with diarrhoea and thought I was past being cured," says John S. Holloway, of French Camp, Miss. "I had spent so much time and money and suffered so much that I had given up all hopes of recovery. I was so feeble from the effects of the diarrhoea that I could do no kind of labor, could not even travel but by accident I was permitted to find a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and after taking several bottles I am entirely cured of that trouble. I am so pleased with the result that I am anxious to let it be in reach of all who suffer as I have." For sale by Z. Wayne Griffin & Bro.

CASTORIA For Infants and Children.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of J. C. Ayer & Co.

The period of prosperity in which we have been living promises to continue. Barns and houses are being built all over the West and old barns are being repaired, pianos are being bought, girls and boys are getting better chances to go to school; in a word, the waves of prosperity are washing the great inland ports as well as the edges of our country—Philadelphia Manufacturer.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Don't Know It.

How to Find Out.

Fill a bottle or common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys; if it stains your linen it is evidence of kidney trouble; too frequent desire to pass it or pain in the back is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

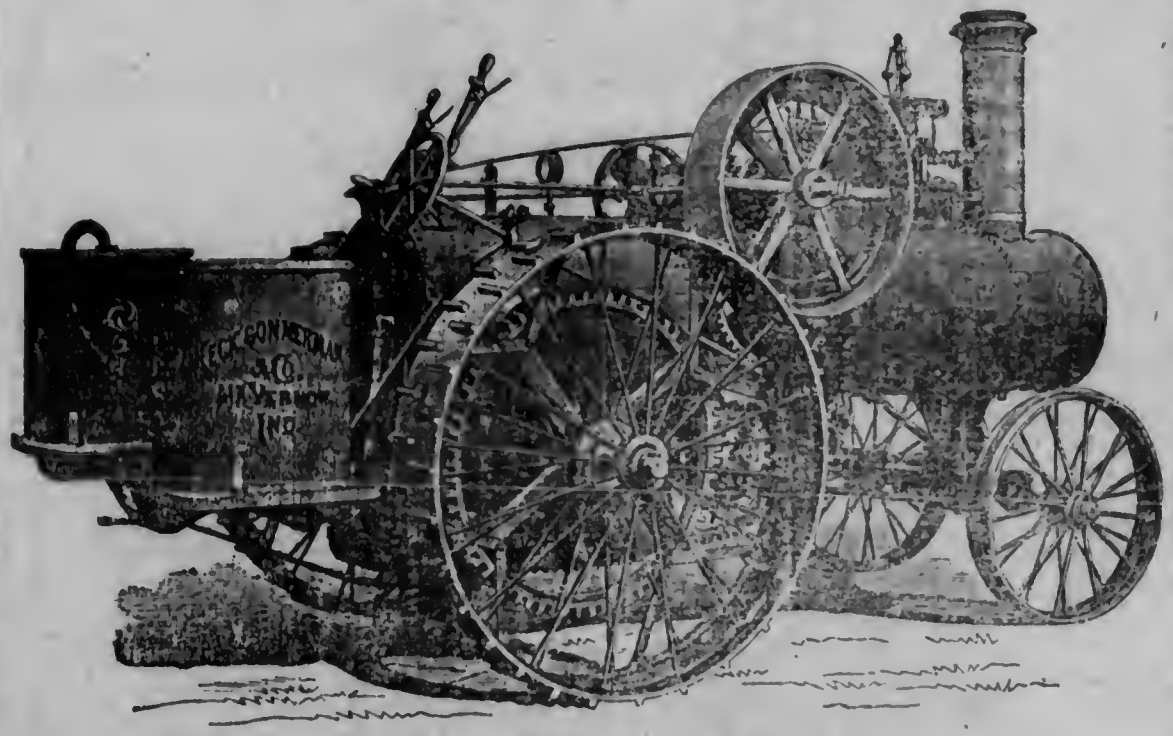

What to Do.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, fulfills every wish in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidney, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold water and stinging pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in 50c and $1. sizes. You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful discovery and a book that tells more about it, both sent absolutely free by mail, address Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper.

I have done my best to understand my duty in State affairs. I can't indorse Mr. Taylor's course and to vote for Yerkes would be to indorse all the lawlessness of last winter.—J. P. MILLER.

AMERICA'S CALAMITY.

The death of President McKinley at Buffalo last Saturday morning plunged the Nation into mourning, every true citizen felt that he had lost, not only the head of our great Republic, but a bosom friend. His death was so cruel and untimed and the manner of his taking away so abnormal and unexpected that the Nation was ill prepared to receive the shock. That McKinley, without a personal enemy in all the world, should be brutally shot down, startled the whole universe. Having come at a time of greatest prosperity, when the land was at peace with all the world, when the National ferment shone forth in its purity, cloudless and without a blemish, when Nature had yielded forth her bountiful harvest to the glory of all, his death could but be felt as a personal loss.

But it will be a lesson for our Government, though it be purchased with the life of that noble, unassuming, generous American. It has taught America that she cannot harbor the anarchistic organization, that to do so, simply invites vice and crime and lawless bands of demons to incite rapine and murder in times of profound peace. Hang every fiend connected with the assassination and legislate every demon from the borders of the country. It is but right that it should be done, the people demand that it be done and may it be a speedy blessing. McKinley's cruel death cries for the safety of our beloved country, it cries for rigid punishment of the crime against the greatest country in all Christendom.

McKinley will go down in history as the greatest ruler of the age, his name will rank with those of Lincoln and Washington, while his administration will mark the opening of the 20th century as the dawn of a new era in the world's history, with William McKinley the first and foremost actor in the drama. While we mourn the loss of that brave and gallant soldier, that matchless statesman and financier, as a public calamity, we rest in the sublime hope in the ability of great America to survive such a dreaded calamity, and that the old ship of State will sail just as securely under Theodore Roosevelt as pilot, under the guardian angel of Heaven. Every heart in the Nation beats in tenderest sympathy for the heart-broken companion who has been the object of the love and admiration of such a noble American.

CONSTRUCTION OF LAWLESSNESS.

"A vote for Yerkes is to endorse all the lawlessness of last winter." What is the significance of this statement? Why should Judge Miller say to the 3,250 electors of this country who voted for Mr. Yerkes: "You gentlemen, endorsed lawlessness, when you cast your vote for Mr. Yerkes?"

The analysis of this case shows that John W. Yerkes never committed a crime in his life; that he has been guilty of no offense against the people or State; that he is an honest, high-toned gentleman, a man of National repute, a man of exceptional ability and above all, a man of the people.

Last year Mr. Yerkes made the race for Governor, declaring upon every stump that he would abide by the will of the people as expressed at the polls. This, according to Mr. Miller's version, is lawlessness. Mr. Yerkes advocated popular elections by the grace of the people and not by the grace of the Goebel law, and this Mr. Miller says is lawlessness. Mr. Yerkes opposed class legislation, he opposed the Goebel law and denounced the campaign of '99 in the severest terms. Mr. Miller thunders forth, this is lawlessness. Mr. Yerkes denounced the contest, the overthrow of civil and political equality; official grand larceny as un-American in act and in spirit, declaring that the will of a majority of the people should be the supreme law of the land, and again hails the Judge, this is simply lawlessness and I can't endorse it.

Truly, Mr. Yerkes pledged himself to conservatism, he declared that he would not, if elected Governor, extend executive clemency to any man until he had considered all the evidence in the case, and this our worthy Judge proclaimed to be infamous farce beyond human power to describe, lawlessness in its infancy.

JUDICIAL ANARCHISM.

On the first page will be found the announcement of Judge Cantrill for the United States Senatorship, in the form of a "charge" to the Franklin county grand jury and on the assassination of Senator Goebel. The assassination of the President was made a pretext for reviewing the assassination of Senator Goebel, and the trials of those accused of the crime. This judicial political speech to a grand jury to arouse partisan animosity and inflame the passions of the jury, is without a precedent in Kentucky legal lore. Judge Cantrill has proven himself unfit for the high station he holds by giving expression to that intensely partisan spirit that fills his bosom. It is the first case in history of a court charging the pulpit with secretly praying for the death of any citizen. If his thrusts at the ministry of this commonwealth be true, it is certainly a bad recommendation, for him, the object of this tirade against the intelligence of the State.

The ministry of every community should be of God-fearing men and it is thus invariably. Just what could prompt any man to arraign the men of God because they did not see fit to meet in the sanctuary and invoke the God of mankind to spare the life of William Goebel, till he had overthrown the basic principles of political, civil and social equality, and set upon the perch of liberty the carrion rotture of anarchy and rebellion. The man who assaults the church, because of political animosities and applies the most infamous epithets of his heart to the ministry and prees, takes his own measure in the estimation of honorable men. No where in Christendom can there be found a more talented and respected ministry than Kentucky has given to the great cause of her God, and the men who assail that ministry are in direct rebellion against the angels in heaven.

Assassination is the worst crime against God and man, it is a relic of the dark ages and not a product of the 20th century; to put it plainly, it is hell turned loose upon God's people, which no age or civilization can endorse. When Judge Cantrill assails the Kentucky press as a "lot of lecherous, libelous, cowardly curs, that no community ought to tolerate," he pleads for the cause of anarchy and the spirit of such a disgraceful appeal to an American jury is pregnant with incalculable evil. We deplore the manner in which Mr. Goebel was killed, it was a reproach upon the intelligence of the State, but he himself provoked it, as he thrust the dagger of treason into the heart of liberty and attempted to ride over the will of the people, as expressed at the polls. Mr. Goebel was defeated under his own law, manipulated by his own henchmen; his defeat was sworn to by the election officials (Democratic as they were) in every county in the State and finally by the central tribunal at Frankfort. Mr. Goebel's cause was not righteous—this whole procedure, from the time of his nomination down, was not characteristic of that dignified statesmanship by which Kentucky is universally known.

Mr. Goebel was defeated and rebelled; he was rejected by the people and revolted against their judgment. The fight that the Kentucky press made against Mr. Goebel and his methods was a noble struggle for honesty and an untrammeled ballot, that was all asked or demanded, and we rejoice to know that the pulpit of this blessed country vied with us in that struggle.

IN THE COMMITTEE ROOM.
 Judge Miller's supposed speech to the Democratic committee:
 Well, gentlemen, I am good deal like brother Smith on the matter of joint debate. I ain't much taken with the idea of meeting the other fellows, but then just as sure as we don't meet them, we'll lose not less than 500 votes. My Populist friends are indignant at our refusal, and I understand the Democrats are too.

Now, as for them confessions of mine that my opponent has, that Mr. Smith spoke of, I can dodge them just about as well as brother Smith can his two week's pay bill, and I want that clearly understood. The things that I am torn up over the worst is some other letters that I am expecting exploded at any time.

I can't think the statement I made to the Bartlett Populists in '97, about "having my foot on the neck of the Democratic party," will make any difference with Democrats. Let them read my 4th of March confession. That tells the story in a nut shell.
 As to my false statement of the county's business, that won't amount to anything, you know, the people will believe me regardless of the records. If you can dodge your own conduct as I will that, we will still be in the swim.
 I think the most dangerous phase of the campaign lies in the conduct of the Democratic party toward my opponent, since the whole fire from the Democratic batteries has been focused on Rogers. I never saw a fellow gain so fast. Why, a Republican told me the other day that he would rather see Rogers elected than the rest of the ticket, and he was a special friend of mine, too, all because the Democrats were cursing him so bitterly. Now, gentlemen, I think this ought to stop. You need rest no uneasiness about me, I'm all right. No other man on the ticket is quite so well off as I. When I meet an old Republican friend I tell him that I am just as good a Republican as he, and cite him to the fact that I voted for Asbury, and when I meet a Populist friend I tell him to be off, I tell him that I am as good a Populist as he and refer him to my T. F. Crowder letter; finally, when I meet a Democrat, sore on me, I cite him to my 4th of March card and he readily sees that I can dodge the people better than any fellow here ever seen.

I think I am in just as good condition as brother Smith and could face my letters and confessions just as well as he could meet his office-holding and that "Two Week's Pay Bill."

THE REPUBLICAN'S CAMPAIGN.
 The Republican candidate for county offices opened the speaking campaign at this place yesterday. Although the speaking had been advertised only a few days, more than 200 voters and quite a number of ladies were present. Judge R. R. Weddington made the opening speech. He began by paying a beautiful tribute to our beloved and lamented chief, President McKinley, who was so foully assassinated only a few days ago. In his own happy style, which has won him so many friends in the country and civil liberty in the South depended absolutely upon the success of the Republican party from the President to the President, and counseled his hearers to loyally support our county candidates who are worthy representatives of the Republican party.

Each of the candidates made a speech appropriate to the occasion. Mr. Heavin expressed his regret that his opponent would not favor him with his presence here that the people might judge of their relative fitness for the office of County Attorney. Mr. Rogers deplored the fact that the Democratic candidates had broken the rule that had obtained in Ohio county since before he was born of joint speaking over the county by the candidates of both parties. Mr. Rogers made some pleasant but pithy references to his opponents record political and official, that called forth uproarious laughter from the audience. Candidates Ragland, Keown, Bennett, DeWeese, Black, Love and Martin made interesting speeches. A number of Democrats were present and some of them expressed themselves as thoroughly disgusted with the cowardly policy of their candidates on the stump.

Poison Oak

are among the best known of the many dangerous wild plants and shrubs. To touch or handle them quickly produces swelling and inflammation with the intense itching and burning of the skin. The eruption soon disappears, the sufferer hopes forever; but almost as soon as the little blisters and pustules appear the poison has reached the blood, and will break out at regular intervals and each time in a more aggravated form. This poison will enter the system for years, and every atom of it must be forced out of the blood before you can expect a perfect, permanent cure.

SSS Nature's Antidote FOR Nature's Poisons. is the only cure for Poison Oak, Poison Ivy, and all noxious plants. It is composed exclusively of roots and herbs. Now is the time to get the poison out of your system, so delay makes your condition worse. Don't experiment longer with salves, washes and soaps—they never cure. Mr. M. M. Starnhall, bookkeeper of the Atlanta (Ga.) Gas Light Co., was poisoned with Poison Oak. He took Sulphur, Arsenic and various other drugs, and acquired externally numerous eruptions and sores with no benefit. At times the swelling and inflammation was so severe he was almost blind. For eight years the poison would break out every year. His condition was much improved after taking one bottle of S. S. S., and a few bottles cleared his blood of the poison, and all evidence of the disease disappeared.

People are often poisoned without knowing when or how. Explain your case fully to our physicians, and they will cheerfully give such information and advice as you require, without charge, and we will send at the same time an interesting book on Blood and Skin Diseases. The Renewal of a Strain.
 Vacation is over. Again the school bell rings at morning and at noon, again with ten of thousands the hardest kind of work has begun, the renewal of which is a mental and physical strain to all except the most rugged. The little girl that a few days ago had roses in her cheeks, and the little boy whose lips were then so red you would have insisted that they had been "kissed by straw berries," have already lost something of the appearance of health. Now is a time when many children should be given a tonic, which may avert much serious trouble, and we know of no other so highly to be recommended as Hood's Sarsaparilla, which strengthens the nerves, perfects digestion and assimilation, and aids mental development by building up the whole system.

Announcement to THE PUBLIC

Having purchased of Mr. R. T. Collins his entire stock of Dry Goods, Notions, Clothing, Etc., I wish to say that I will continue the same business at the same stand. The well-known reputation of the house for the best and latest Dry Goods at the lowest prices, will be maintained. The stock will be added to, and no expense nor trouble will be spared to make this store the favorite trading place for the people for this whole section of the country.

My long experience in the dry goods business and observation of the desires of the public, make me confident that I can serve my customers in a most satisfactory way. All I ask is a visit, to convince you that I will make it profitable for you to trade with me.

In the meantime, just as a starter for what you may expect in low prices, I ask those in need of Dry Goods of any kind, to call and see how I am closing out all Summer Goods. The new Fall Stock will be on hand in about two weeks, and I think you will find it superior in all lines to anything you have seen around in this section lately.

Hoping to merit and to receive my share of public patronage, I am

Mrs. Maggie Brooks Dead.
 Died, at her home in Fordville, at 6:30 o'clock p. m., Thursday, September 12, 1901, of typhoid fever, after an illness of twenty-one days, Mrs. Maggie Brooks, widow of the late Philip H. Brooks, in the 37th year of her age. Mrs. Brooks was born in Burdett, New York county, Ky., October 5, 1864, and was the oldest daughter of Reuben and Mary A. Wright, who have been citizens of Fordville for many years and where Mrs. Brooks has lived since she was very young. At the age of sixteen years she joined the church and at the time of her death her membership was with the Presbyterian church at Haynesville. April 15, 1884, she married Phillip H. Brooks, a steam mill engineer, of Haynesville, who subsequently came to Fordville and for several years was engineer of the Eureka Mills at Fordville. Mr. Brooks was fatally injured on a threshing engine while crossing No Creek bridge on the Livermore road July 12, 1894, and died the next day. He left his wife and three little children a good home and land in Fordville, which by industry and economy, Mrs. Brooks has supported herself and family and raised her children in the fear and admonition of the Lord. Mrs. Brooks had, before she took sick, made every arrangement for the comfort of herself and children by preparing winter supplies and during her last hours she dictated her last wishes for the care of her children and her last moments were passed in singing the songs of Zion, repeating the Lord's prayer and offering up an earnest petition to Him who doeth all things well. On the evening of the 13th, after services by Rev. Lawton and choir, her remains were taken to the Brooks graveyard, near Haynesville, and laid by the side of her husband and little son.

Mrs. Brooks was of that class of Christian ladies that had but few, if any, enemies, and by her gentle disposition and religious devotion had won the highest regard of all who knew her. Repose in thy Father's arms. Weep little children weep. Your mother's gone before. For you that loved to see her face shall see her here no more.

Bird-Shot For Tiger.

No use to hunt tigers with bird-shot. It doesn't hurt the tiger any and it's awfully risky for you.

Consumption is a tiger among diseases. It is stealthy—but once started it rapidly eats up the flesh and destroys the life. No use to go hunting it with ordinary food and medicine. That's only bird-shot. It still advances. Good heavy charges of Scott's Emulsion will stop the advance. The disease feels that.

Scott's Emulsion makes the body strong to resist. It soothes and toughens the lungs and sustains the strength until the disease wears itself out.

Send for free sample. SCOTT & BOWNE, Chemists, 675 Pearl St., N.Y. and J. & J. All Druggists.

Scrofula

For an entirely free trial, it is sent to you to show you its power in curing the disease. It may then produce irregularity of the stomach and bowels, dyspepsia, catarrh, and marked tendency to consumption before reaching the blood in such cases as require a purgative.

AT REST

The Great American Chief-tain Laid to Rest Until the Morning of the Resurrection.

The Nation Mourns the Loss of McKinley -- Sectional Lines and Party Lines Unknown.

Yesterday the remains of the greatest of American statesmen were laid to rest in the Canton cemetery in the presence of a great throng of heartbroken and sorrowing friends while the nation wept bitterly.

Bells all over the land rang out from 1:30 to 3 o'clock their solemn and mournful peals announcing the burial of President McKinley.

America bows her head in sorrow to the inevitable, joined by every civilized government on the globe. The loss which America felt so deeply, is felt the world over and every true American deeply sympathizes with the widow of the distinguished dead.

The citizens decorated their places of business and many their residences with flags crepe and bunting suitable for the occasion. A large painting of the dead President was decorated in mourning and placed on the front balcony of the court house while the church bells, college bell and court house bell rang out the doleful and solemn hour.

The demonstration in every town and city in the union demonstrated the fact that William McKinley was nearer to the hearts of the whole people than any other President since Washington.

Tablet's Buckeye Pile ointment relieves the intense itching. It soothes and cures chronic cases where an ointment is needed. It is not expensive; its sales increase through its cures. Every bottle guaranteed. Price, 50 cts. in bottles, tubes 75 cts. J. H. Williams.

Ohio County Baptists.

Delegates from the Baptist churches of Ohio county will meet at the Baptist church in Hartford the 28th and 29th, to organize an association of all the churches in the county. This is a popular idea and has been neglected for many years. There should be no quibbling as to the organization. No question as to the advisability of the work should be raised. How shall the organization be perfected? Is the only question that should confront the body. Every body is agreed that it is greatly needed and the sentiment of the people demands thorough and speedy work.

The committee in charge of visitors have made arrangement for the delegates from all churches, and they will be cared for royally. The program for the meeting has not yet been arranged, but it is certain that it will be interesting and instructive.

As an external liniment of most wonderful penetrative and curative power, Ballard's Snow Liniment is not equaled by any other in the world. Price 25c and 50c. J. H. Williams.
